Masquerade.

On Thanksgiving night James Wiggins of Empire, who has established himself as a popular entertainer, will give a grand ball and supper at his dancing hall near the brink of the soft flowing Carson. Everybody is invited to be an hand and assist in spoiling the spread of turkey and cranberry sauce besides being allowed to tripple the light fantastic with the youth and beauty of that port.

Turkey Shoot.

There will be a turkey shoot at Empire on Thanksgiving Day in front of Wiggins' Saloon. Distance 200 yards. Also chicken shoot with shot guns at 55 yards. You must kill the bird. Botsford, Hamilton and Blair will shoot any three men in Carson.

ALL SORTS.

Miss Ida Sabin is down with typhoid fever.

The condition of Geo. Hark's little daughter is not improved.

A great deal of jaw bone is passing over the home plate in California base ball circles.

Operations have been suspended at the Incline for the season, having shut down Saturday last.

Miss Fannie Morris, late confidential clerk to Mrs. Hoyer at Wellington, has resigned the position and returned to her Empire home.

The trial of Patrick Crowley, charged with the murder of William Nicholls, will begin in the District Court at Virginia City Monday.

The Eastern press thinks that Alger and Blaine will be at the head of the National Republican ticket in 1892. If the Republicans win they will have to begin at the top of the alphabet.

There was a good audience at the Fabian reading last evening in Odd Fellows' Hall. It was given under the auspices of the Presbyterian Church, and was a very pleasant affair.

Mrs. Kendal, the English actress, has a new way of advertising. She makes a large parade of her virtue, while her husband's fad is his terrible sincerity. Naturally they draw large crowds in New York.

The people of Lander county are still calling for arms and ammunition to quell the Indians invaders. People having old horse pistols or kegs of gunpowder to spare are requested to forward the same without delay.

San Francisco Bulletin: The Democrats will hold a funeral service and "lodge of sorrow" at Metropolitan Temple to-night. Bobby Ferral, "Slippery Tom" Clunie, John P. Irish and other mourners will officiate. No flowers.

The Republican candidates elected at Santa Cruz, tendered the defeated Democrats a banquet, and all had a good time. This would be a good idea here. In such a case Mr. Mackey's bull would furnish plenty of meat for the blowout.

Mise Ida Trapp has been arrested for making threats against the life of her brother-in-law, Jack Armstrong. The young lady claims that Armstrong slandered her. An examination will take place in Justice Hawthorne's Court this morning at 10 o'clock.

The Lyon County Times says: "From all appearances the State University at Reno is drifting into a political proposition for more office seekers. If there is anything in the State that should be kept out of politics it is our educational institutions."

A correspondent of the Daily Report writes that the Bodie mines are pretending to have no bullion, and yet quietly shipping it away. He states that $16,000 was recently shipped to Virginia City, via Carson. He signs himself "Fair Play to Stockholders."

The New York Tribune contains an editorial upon the New York Senatorship, saying in substance that since the Democrats will have control of the next Legislature, Charles A. Dana, editor of the New York Sun, will likely be the next United States Senator from New York.

The Golden Gate Mine in Oroville, Cal., is probably the richest gold mine in the world. Major McLoughlin has successfully turned the river from its bed, and is scooping out gold by the bucketful. Nothing like it was ever seen in the history of river mining in America. People who are now browsing about and trying to purchase stock can't find anybody who wants to sell.

A clean butcher shop goes far towards keeping the meat fresh. Flies will not gather where things are clean. M. C. Gardner, Jr., has just such a market, where the finest lamb, beef, mutton, pork, sausage, etc., can be secured at any time.

PINE NUTS.

Something of the Crop and the Gatherers.

Of late years pine nuts have grown to be quite an article of commerce on this Coast.

This season over eleven tons were shipped from this State to San Francisco, where they threaten in some degree to supplant the peanut on the horse cars.

The Indians go out in the pine forests every Fall and gather the crop. The red men have attempted to gauge the weather by the quantity of pine nuts produced, but as a rule the weather has gone along without any visible connection with pine nuts.

The nuts, which are less than half the size of the peanut, come from the pine cones; under each leaf is a nut.

The cones are gathered and roasted, and the cones spreading apart with the heat, drop the nuts. This accounts for the black soot one occasionally finds on the nuts, which comes off on the forefinger of the right hand.

Another way of getting them out is to store the cones away in a safe place and allow them to dry gradually, letting the nuts fall out thoroughly seasoned. Nuts gathered in this way are higher priced than the ones which have been "fired." These, however, have to be roasted like raw peanuts.

The squaws do all the work, while the bucks smoke and boss the job.

The Indians pound the nuts up in stone pestles and make a sort of flour for winter use, on which they subsist and grow fat. The stuff, when cooked is not particularly palatable.

When the nuts are sold the bucks pocket the money. Each buck who peddles nuts has a different price, but the average is about five cents a pound, though an Indian will charge 25 cents if he thinks he can get it.

The meat of the nut is pleasant to the taste, and oily. It acts on the kidneys, stimulating their action, and is good for coughs and colds, as they contain turpentine. A person who has never devoted half an hour to munching pine nuts has missed a treat.

Some of the Indians report the pine nut crop this year as being "no good," and others mention it as "heep plenty."

Shot His Stepfather.

Between 10 and 11 o'clock Sunday night, at Bodie, Johnny Lee shot and killed his stepfather, William Rienborts, in the Temple saloon. The cause of the shooting was a dispute at the gambling table over a dollar. It is generally supposed, though, that family trouble is really at the bottom of it.

Rienborts was an industrious man, and although much given to drink and quarrelsomeness when in liquor, he always provided for his family, so far as is known. He leaves a large family of small children.

Young Lee gave himself up and is now in jail.

Runaway.

W. D. Tobey's team ran away yesterday and threw out Barney McClure who was trying to help him stop the horses. He struck heavily on his feet severely fracturing the right ankle and nearly wrenching the left knee from its joint. Dr. Lee put the wounded limbs in bandages but it will be some months before Barney can handle himself well. Mr. Tobey stayed with the horses who seem to be stayers when they once get started.

"Gazette" Weather Service.

A heavy snow storm, now out over the Pacific Ocean, is approaching this Nevada basin. I think it will reach us in from seven to ten days. It will be a combination of high winds, rain and snow. It may pass South of us across the head of the Gulf of California, in which case we will get colder blustier weather.

C. W. IRISH.

New and second hand buckboard, and spring wagons for sale at Dr. Benton's, cheap.

COAST NEWS.

The Oregon Legislature will be asked to vote $250,000 for the World's Fair exhibit.

John Davey and W. Walsh, at Gilroy, quarreled and put a load of shot into each other Tuesday.

Switchman Isaac D. Ruff was killed at the Needles Tuesday. He was from Philadelphia.

William W. Lemon, age fifty-seven, was kicked to death by a horse at the Ogden Farm, Riveride, Monday.

One Miller, a business man of Colfax, Wash., wrote a letter to his creditors that he intended to kill himself by drowning, and the next morning the river was dragged for his body. News came later that the man was seen in Pendleton, Or.

The timber-stealing cases against the contractors for the Great Falls and Canada Railroad came to an end in the United States Court at Helena, Mont., Tuesday, after a very short trial. The defendants were charged with unlawfully taking timber valued at $20,000 from Government land on the North and South Canons of the Teton, between February 15th and April 17th of this year.

The Callam county, Wash., records were taken from Dungeness to Port Angeles, the new county seat Tuesday. At the latter place the entire town was to meet the procession of wagons with the books. There were about twenty horsemen in the party, and they all covered themselves with evergreens, and with flags waving, amid cheers and yelling, they rode into town.

C. McLean, sailor of seven years' experience, is at The Needles, from Flagstaff, A. T., having with him a stout steel-ribbed boat, in which he and a companion propose to coast it around the world. They will launch their craft at The Needles, on the Colorado river, and pull down to the gulf in about two weeks. The boat has a 22 foot keel, is 24 feet over all and 7 1-2 feet amidships. She is provided with compressed air chambers forward and astern of 600 pounds pressure.

Ratification.

The Young Men's Republican Club propose to have a regular old fashioned Ratification next Saturday evening, with fire works, band, public speaking, etc.

The line of march will begin at Armory Hall at 8 o'clock, down Carson street to 6th, up 6th to Minnesota, up Minnesota to Telegraph, up Telegraph to Phillip, up Phillip to Robinson, down Robinson to Nevada, up Nevada to John, down John to Carson, and thence to Armory Hall.

People along the line of March are requested to illuminate their dwellings and places of business. All regular Republicans in good standing are expected to attend.

Talk About Crops.

Superintendent Parker, of the Orphans' Home, raised over three and a half tons of potatoes off a patch of ground 100 feet square. This equals 16 tons to the acre, the present market value of which is $400 at $25 a ton.

On a piece of ground where he planted two sacks of wheat he took off 62 sacks, and the wheat was raised without irrigation.

The idea of men hunting California lands at $1,000 an acre, when they can get such crops as this in Nevada with the land at $10 an acre!

More Special Rates.

The Southern Pacific Company has given a special rate on grain in carload lots from Reno, Lovelock and intermediate points to Sacramento, Stockton, Port Costa and South Vallejo, of $4 per ton; to San Francisco, $4.50 per ton. The company has also extended the rate of $30 for a 28-foot car of hay to Lovelock.

Will Appear Tomorrow.

THE APPEAL has received an extraordinary political communication from the pen of an old politician in Storey county. In it he makes statements which if true ought to revolutionize politics in this State. It will appear in tomorrow's issue over the signature of the writer.

Funeral of Joseph Maguire.

The funeral of the late Joseph Maguire took place from the Catholic Church yesterday afternoon.
